

Bound by a nutspell

Music & Words by Claas Fischer

1.

Bound by a nutspell Cinderella has cast over me,
Trapped like a mussel in a shell, I cannot break free.
Solar plexus is turning, emotions seem older than me,
Awakening burning of a dream that we used to be.

Chorus:

I send you my love around the world.
I send you my love around the world.

2.

Far off in the land where Indian Spirits dwell,
Her eyes were revealing the soul sparkling deep inside the well.
Reaching far under the surface, where sea animals drift.
I can hear you where ever you are, that's our mutual gift.

Chorus

3.

Handcuffs of love made by the carmic chisel.
Fountains of joy in my heart revive and fizzle.
Endless stories of magic written in invisible chords,
Open secrets and courage and trust enchant my feelings and thoughts.

Chorus

Caught by a nutspell she cannot have put upon me,
For she's given me eagle's wings and the freedom to see.
She's my guardian angel and the fairy of butterflies,
I love her, so I let go and say my good-byes.
